INFORMED ON REFORM

KEEPING YOU UP-TO-DATE ON THE PPACA

Reminder:

2016 Comparative Effectiveness Research Fee (CERF) Payment

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) includes a Comparative Effectiveness Research Fee (CERF) for insurers and self-funded plans to fund research that determines the effectiveness of various forms of medical treatment. CERF is effective through 2019 with fee amounts indexed annually. Cigna pays CERF for insured plans.* Self-funded plans must calculate and pay their own fee.

2016 CERF Payment Details

The fee is based on the average covered lives for the applicable 12-month policy or plan year, and is paid using IRS form 720 by July 31 each year for the plan year that ended in the preceding calendar year. It's important to remember that employers must use their ERISA plan year if it is different from the renewal date. The fees for 2016 are:

Plan Year Start Date	Fee Per Average Covered Life
Feb. 1, 2014–Oct. 1, 2014	$2.08
Nov. 1, 2014–Jan. 1, 2015	$2.17

Membership Reports to Support Self-Funded Employers

Cigna provides CRA reports to help self-funded employers determine their average covered lives. These reports are updated on the 15th of each month and are available through your Cigna eligibility portal (CignaAccess or [Client Resource Portal \[CRP\]](#)). If you have Cigna Behavioral Health, Voluntary or Global Health Benefits plans, you can request these reports through your Cigna representative.
