

Care should never be unfair

Health equity should be part of every client's benefits strategy

Here's why

Too many people are facing obstacles to good health due to factors such as economic status, education level, neighborhood, home safety, access to care, healthy food and more.

Health disparities cost $42 billion
in lost productivity per year*

These Social Determinants of Health (SDoH) can make being healthy harder than it has to be. Health inequities can reduce productivity while driving up medical costs for your clients. Learn how employers can break down barriers to care and create a healthy, productive – and inclusive – workforce.

Together, all the way.®
