Learn why specialty drugs deserve special attention.

Help clients cut costs >

For clients to keep their medical costs down, they need to curb the rising costs of drugs – particularly specialty drugs.

Specialty drugs account for

of total health care spend.*

With drug costs rising – 6.6% this year alone – these medications need to be properly managed. When they are, pharmacy costs drop while employees get the critical treatment they need.

Lower pharmacy costs can mean lower medical spending for your clients. And healthier, happier employees can mean growth for your clients' business.
