

Washington Review

We're pleased to share the latest issue of Washington Review — our quarterly e-newsletter that examines the latest legislative, regulatory and policy updates — an exclusive resource available to select MetLife brokers like you.

In this issue of Washington Review:

- Sweeping tax reform law repeals ACA's individual mandate, includes changes to benefits, compensation
- Deal to raise spending caps, keep government open includes wide-ranging health care provisions
- Administration proposes rules to expand association health plans and short-term limited duration insurance
- After a brief shutdown, Congress extends CHIP, delays three ACA taxes

As always, we care about your success and remain committed to your future. We look forward to our continued collaboration to meet your clients' needs, now and as things change.