In order to help you be aware of some of the rules that govern HRA's, HSA's, and FSA's, we will be periodically providing information that will address some of the more frequent questions that are asked of us. Quite often there are exceptions to the general rule, so it is important to either contact us for clarification or contact your tax adviser when the circumstances differ from those contained in our summary.

New HRA Regulations Issued!

Yesterday, the Departments of Treasury, Labor, and Health and Human Services issued Final Rules for the new Health Reimbursement Arrangement regulations. These regulations will take effect for Plan Years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

So that you can properly advise your clients, we will be providing you with our analysis and updates as we make them available.

I've attached the Final Rules here:
