You will not want to miss our annual March Madness meeting with Keynote speaker, Tim Clue!

See more on Tim, here!

Tim has synthesized his calling as a 21st century corporate entertainer and motivational speaker who inspires conference attendees through shared humor.

Tim is a true conference kick-starter savant, spinning his talents into a shared experience. His business presentations challenge the audience to experience the benefits of gaining comfort in discomfort, increasing personal bandwidths and opening new channels for better adaptation and change.

Speak with Tim and you'll soon understand the difference between a talker and a hilarious team builder who understands the power of collaboration, creativity and teamwork, and can convey this through a motivational business keynote that is as entertaining as it is inspiring.
