

QANI and CIGNA - FOCUSED ON PROVIDER COMMUNITY

As you may have heard in the news, Cigna has launched a new service company, CareAllies, Inc., that will work closely with provider organizations of all types to help them focus on improved patient outcomes and achieve better health care quality and affordability of the populations they serve. The formation of CareAllies is seamless to you and your clients and will not affect you in any way.

For nearly 25 years, QANI has worked with and for hospitals, physicians and health systems through the development of private-label, multi-tiered health plans for both the commercial and Medicare markets. Its modular, plug-and-play operating platform helps providers evolve their practice and business models to meet local market needs, and its analytic tools support providers as they transition to value-based care.

Together these two organizations have formed a strong alliance that will continue to look for new and innovative ways to work with physicians to improve the quality of care your clients deserve.
